FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

FOR BACKACHE, KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

IF SKIN BREAKS
OUT AND ITCHES
APPLY SULPHUR

Use it like a cold cream and dry Eczema eruptions right up.

The moment you apply bold-sulphur to an itching or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a renowned dermatologist.

This remarkable sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema, that it is a never ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties and nothing has ever been found to take its place in relieving irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin.

While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance, it immediately subdues the itching irritation and heals the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again manifests itself.

Any good druggist will supply an ounce of bold-sulphur, which should be applied to the affected parts like the ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with tortuous itching.

HIS TOWER MAIDEN

(By Constance Morton.)

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Strange to relate Deane Barlow had never been in love—not until that April evening when he had returned to his room at Mrs. Pilling's boarding house and had discovered his Tower Lady.

The "tower" was the narrow, jutting wing of a fashionable private hotel around the corner, and at one of its lace-draped windows he had discovered a girl's lovely, wistful face, sometimes looking out at the sunset clouds piling in the west and just visible through a rift in the buildings; sometimes, and more often, bent thoughtfully downward as if she held a book.

Deane grew to love her hair of pale gold and her eyes of some mysterious color that distance could not reveal.
He worshipped her from afar, for he knew that there was a wide social barrier raised between the occupant of that luxurious suite and a poor young law clerk.

At night the curtains of the "tower" were drawn and his lady had vanished. Twenty-four hours must elapse before he might glimpse her face again. It was only in the afternoon that he saw her; never at other times or on Sundays.

At the dinner table that night there was much animation among the boarders. Miss Brown, who operated the telephone switchboard in the hotel around the corner, had revealed the fact that there was to be a wedding in the Fallside the next day—at least one of the guests was to be married; had they not all seen the beautiful Miss Gladys Elmoreton?

"A blonde, isn't she?" asked Ada Wasson eagerly.

Miss Brown nodded her head.
Mr. Pilling, who carved the roast, looked up from under his shaggy eyebrows.

"Who's she going to marry?" he asked gruffly.

"Bradbury Kohler—he's got oceans of money."

Deane Barlow winced.
Bradbury Kohler was one of his employers—a big, jovial, red-faced young man. So Bradbury was going to marry Deane's Tower Lady! No wonder the tower window was darkened; the prospective bride would have no time now to look with dreamy eyes into the sunset.

So Deane banished his dreams and plunged into his work with renewed industry. There was much talk in the office about the wedding and some chaffing of the bridegroom when he returned from a honeymoon spent abroad.

Then came a momentous day when Deane, looking out of his window toward his lady's tower, again saw her sweet, serious face turned toward the sunset clouds. A little wrench at his heart told him that he had not succeeded in dismissing her from his dreams.

The next morning he happened to be alone in the office when the door opened and a young woman entered.
Delicately fair and very lovely in her summers attire, she turned a pair of blue eyes on the clerk and smiled pleasantly.

"Is Mr. Kohler in his office?"

"I will inquire," Deane placed a chair for her and was about to leave the room when her voice detained him.

"Please tell him Mrs. Kohler is waiting for him," she smiled over her shoulder.

Mrs. Kohler! Deane's brain was dizzy as he delivered the message to Bradbury and followed that happy bridegroom down the corridor to the outer office.

"Gladys!" Mr. Kohler greeted her and the two disappeared toward his private office.

If this strange young woman was the wife of Bradbury Kohler, who, then, was the lady of his tower?

His first move was to inquire of Miss Brown concerning the other inmates of the Elmoreton family. It appeared that Gladys was an only child.
But there was another girl there, too, Miss Brown acknowledged. Mrs.
Elmoreton's social secretary was Miss Aris Sandford. Miss Brown knew her slightly. Miss Sandford's brother worked in the same office with Deane.
He must know Jack Sandford!

Deane did know Jack Sandford as well as he knew any of his fellow clerks. They had attended baseball games together, and always lunched side by side in the downtown restaurant. Jack was married and had frequently invited Deane to his little home in the suburbs, but Deane had never been there. The knowledge that his Tower Lady was sister to his friend convinced Deane that something more than coincidence was at work. It was a kindly fate—nothing less!

When Jack Sandford repeated his invitation Deane accepted with flattering haste.

And that evening he met his Tower Lady face to face. She was more charming than she looked and that is saying a great deal.

It was many weeks before Deane had the courage to tell her the story of his Tower Lady and to finally ask her to be his wife and sweetheart and helpmate—for the wife of his dreams must be all these things.

And Aris, who loved him for himself alone, turned her face up to his and there was a light on it as if bathed in sunset glory.

Freckle-Face

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots.
How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money, back if it fails to remove freckles.

SPECIAL FEATURES OF
WINTHROP SUMMER SCHOOL

Special to The Intelligencer.

Rock Hill, May 20.—The letters and applications for registration coming into the office are giving proof of the interest of the teachers of the State in the opportunities offered here to broaden and deepen their training for thorough work.

Probably none of the courses of the summer school are more highly appreciated than the lectures given by Dr. Thomas M. Balliet. Dr. Balliet is dean of the department of pedagogy of the New York university, and is America's greatest authority on the psychology of teaching. No one who has heard his delightful talks on children and their problems and on teachers and their preparation can fail to be fitted for better work in the future.

Another feature of note is the series of lectures by Dr. Henry F. Cope, the general secretary of the Religious Education association. Dr. Cope gave a series of talks to the college last fall, and the whole college felt itself lifted to a higher plane by his conception of the possibilities of religion as a vital part of education.

Drink More Water
If Kidneys Bother

Eat Less Meat and Take Salts for Backache or Bladder Trouble.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly.
As first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

They Are 70 Years Old.
"For some time past my wife and myself were troubled with kidney trouble," writes T. B. Carpenter, Harrington, Pa. "We suffered rheumatic pains all through the body. The first few doses of Foley's Kidney Pills relieved us. After taking five bottles between us we are entirely cured. Although we are both in the seventies we are as vigorous as we were 20 years ago." Foley's Kidney Pills stop sleep disturbing bladder weakness, backache, rheumatism, dizziness, swollen joints and sore muscles.
